TO make "51" a complete unit, we must consider the component parts which make up the whole:

the faculty, who gave us the mental incentive;

the sports, that helped us with physical encouragement;

the clubs, that served as the bases of our school social life;

the seniors, who are the key to the whole puzzle;

the sponsors, who provide the financial stability of our community.

MISS GERTRUDE TWISS

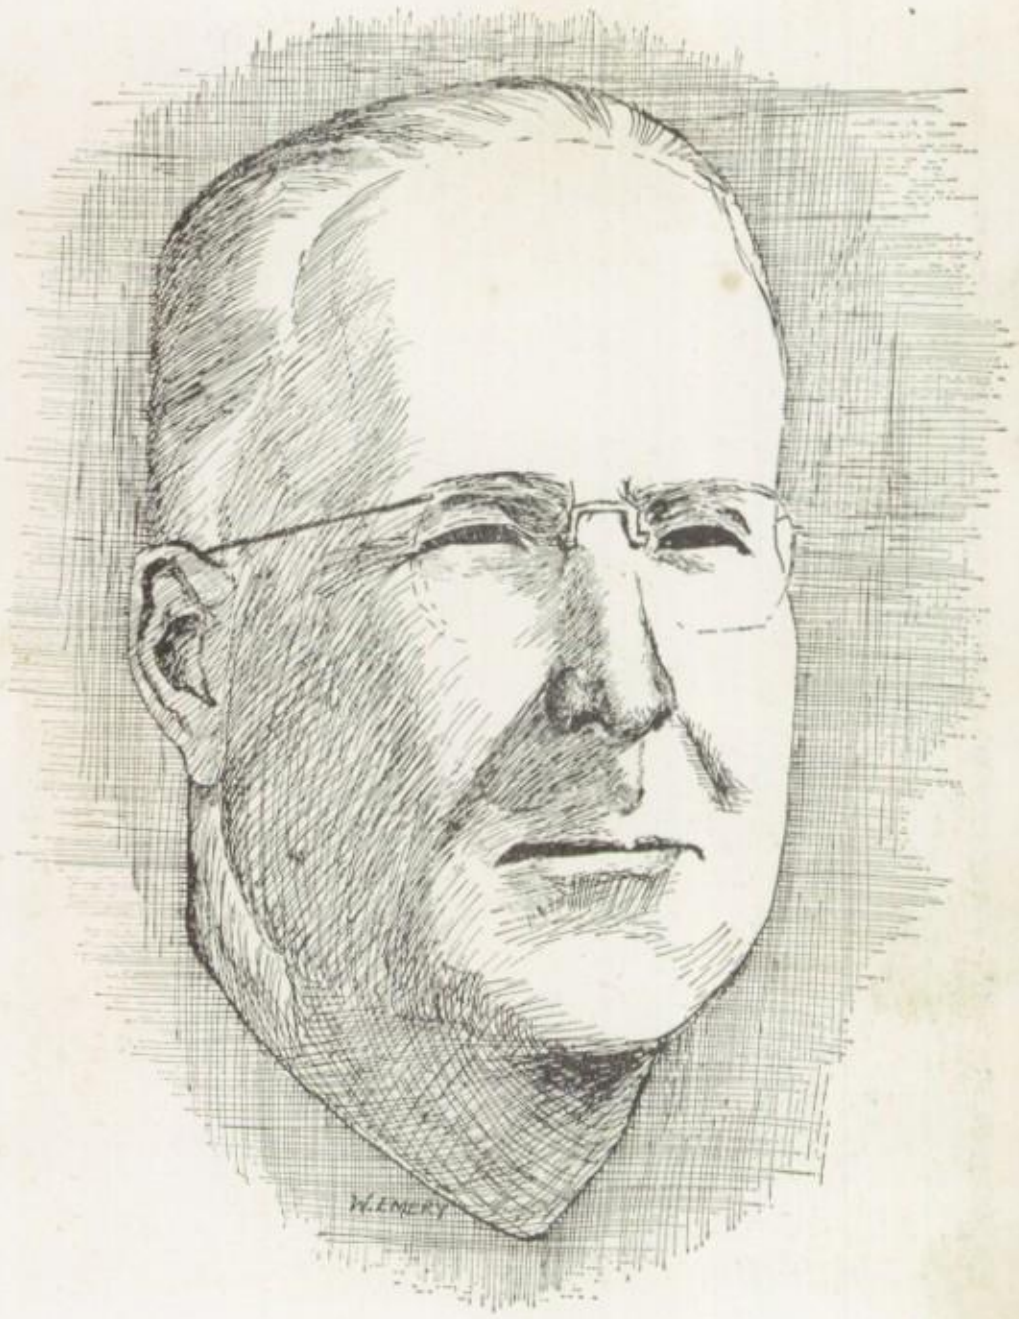
IN GRATEFUL APPRECIATION

Just before Thanksgiving and Christmas there came a day when something was noticeably different, as we walked down the corridor past room 210. Even the typewriters in rooms 113 and 214 must have sensed it in the hesitating touch of students' fingers.

"You are on your own now," the keys seemed to say to the would-be typists, as they felt their way along the keyboard. For the fact was that Miss Twiss's departure from the teaching staff of Milton High School was felt by everyone, students and faculty alike.

"No good school publication can exist without a sound business and financial set-up," was the lesson so successfully taught by Miss Twiss to the annual staffs of the "Unquity Echo." She was tireless in the long hours she spent patiently helping us to carry on the business of a good school publication.

We cannot look ahead to the future, which opens so challengingly before every graduating class, without reviewing the tremendous contribution we have received from Milton High School. In grateful appreciation of her very real share in that contribution, and with sincere admiration and affection, we dedicate this yearbook to Miss Twiss.



GEORGE C. MARSDEN,
Principal

TO THE CLASS OF '51

Milton High School graduates of this year have achieved a deeper world consciousness than have the members of any previous class. Four decades of turmoil have blasted physical and spiritual isolation. We have been forced to accept a broader view of the world as a whole. We cannot stand alone.

What each graduate does for the next ten years may be determined by events which transpire in another hemisphere. Large scale decisions among civilized peoples are so disruptive that everyone becomes involved. Our political world whirls from one crisis to another as though a new map were being made. The complete map seems like a huge jig saw puzzle, the key to which is human relationship. It is the privilege of each of us to help fit those pieces into a perfect whole.

Meanwhile in retrospect you may recall the dimming puzzle put together by your high school experiences. The personalities of certain teachers were integral parts. The influence of their principles and ideals clarified the pattern. Likewise some outstanding classmates made the position of the pieces more evident. Perhaps those classmates will develop that key of human relationship.

School life, however, was not limited to human contacts. Routine classroom experiences helped in their way, and you accrued a background of pertinent facts and modes of reasoning. Meanwhile clubs, sports, and social activities provided equally important sections of your jig saw puzzle.

May we hope that each part of your school puzzle developed those attributes which will help you to solve the great enigma of the future world.

KEYNOTE

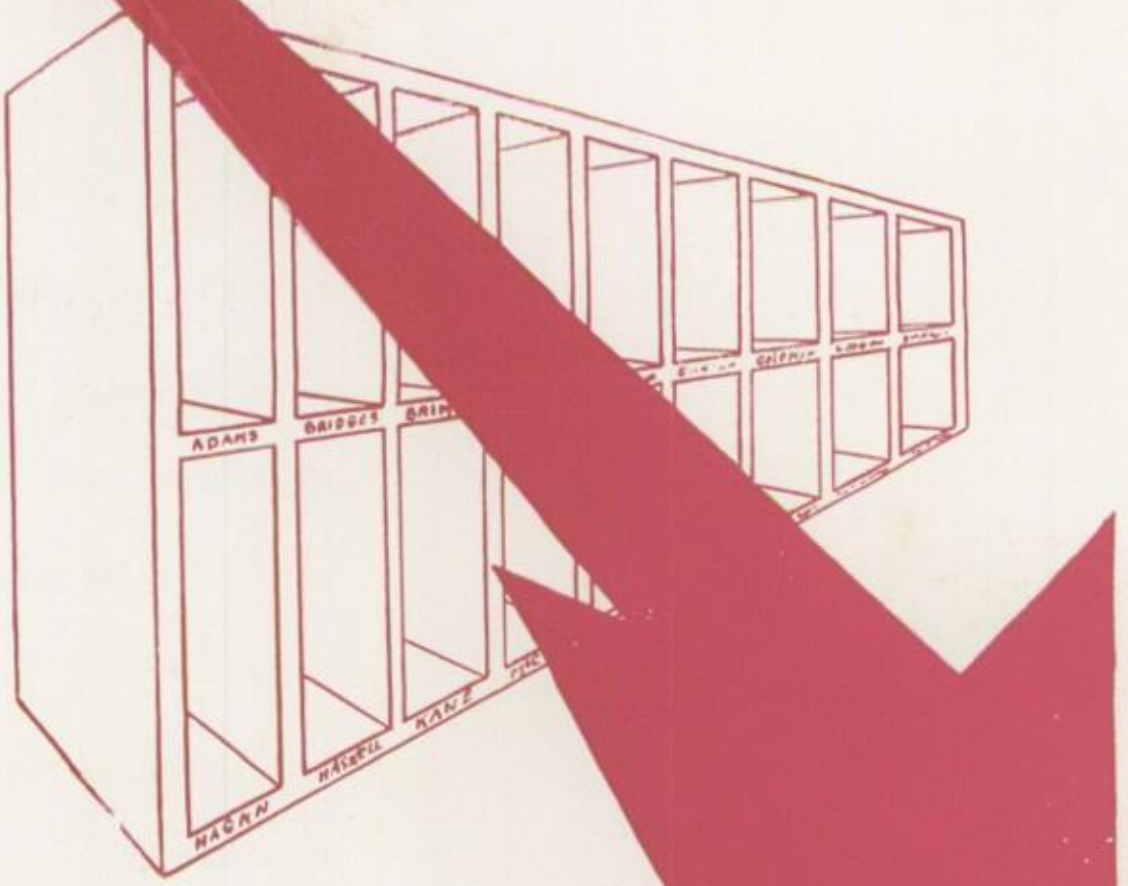
S

Who am I? Just an average senior who might have sat diagonally in front of you in the study hall and glared at you because you wouldn't stop talking while I was trying to study for a test. I know we have a yearbook staff, but we always feel that they don't quite express our ideas of the various situations. I found fault. They dared me to record the impression of an average man who has traveled with you through the three years of high school. If my impressions are not exactly like yours, remember, I'm not omnipotent; I'm just average.

That little cartoon you see in the corner is supposed to be me. The staff thought it would be wiser if you never found out who I really am . . . .

Faculty



I suppose my story is no different from anyone else's. It started when I met my homeroom teacher as a sophomore. She really started me off in the right direction. In fact it's always been like that between us students and the faculty. I would like to write a biography of each one of these outstanding instructors, but Miss Bridges told us that hero-worship is on the way out in biographies, so I'd better just show you their pictures.

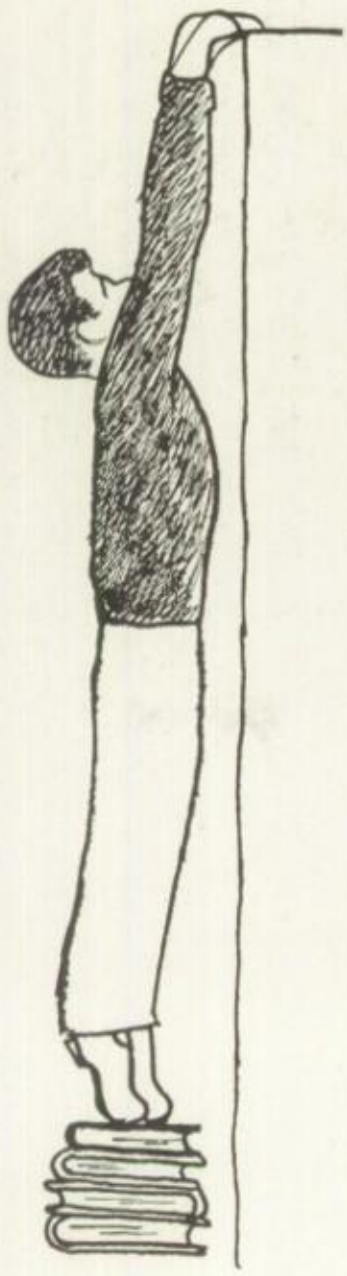
Sports



Never again was I to capture the excitement of that moment. There, in the annual winter sports' assembly, I sat glued to my chair. Emotion had transfixed me. The long lists were being read. Soon the moment would arrive and it would be over. Then it happened. It was as if a bell had rung. I arose. My legs were like lead. I quivered with tenseness and walked . . . .

FOOTBALL

I doubled up my hands and dug my fingernails into the wet palm of my hand. I glanced up into the stands at the yelling mob and turned away as I saw faces I recognized. Why couldn't the "ref" hurry up and blow his whistle? Here waiting for the start of the Braintree game, I remembered all the other games that had been like this. I remember the North game in the cold and the Wellesley game in the pouring rain, but none had been as bad as this. Besides, they were in the past and we needed this one. I gritted my teeth as I thought of the ones we had lost and smiled as I thought of how we had upset the predictions by winning. And then I heard the referee's whistle.

CHEERLEADERS

I'm a football player, as you know, so I had an excuse to be down on the field when our cheerleaders were practicing. Mr. McCormick kept us pretty busy with wind sprints and other exercises, but just the same, I was not busy all the time. My opinion is that we have the best cheerleaders of any year, and I know that most of the other boys agree with me. Starting with Ellie and working either way, left or right, you will probably have a tough job deciding which one is the peppiest and best looking. Of course, if I told you whom I've picked, you'd say that naturally I'm prejudiced.

You and I never did agree on the band. Did we? I always claimed that Mr. Tatro was the reason that it sounded so much better. I remember you said that the more we heard it the more we appreciated its contribution to school spirit. It's really not worth arguing about though. We both agree on one thing. The members certainly made a fine show marching down the football field. I'll have to take your word for how it sounded between the halves, but from the way you've raved, they're born musicians.

MR. ADAMS
Coach

There is one thing about those cross country boys you have to admire. They don't stop for anything. I remember one cold, rainy fall day of the previous season. There we were, all standing around the corridor outside the gym waiting for someone, anyone, to tell us football practice had been called off. Suddenly the door opened and out came the cross country team, all dressed and ready to go. I think we all felt a little ashamed of ourselves, letting the track team show us up. At that, they had the better of us. We went out and got soaked, but Mr. Adams has taught them how to run between the raindrops.

TRACK

Never again will I walk down dark corridors of the basement after school. I was minding my own business as I walked along, with nothing on my mind but how to study three hours of history in forty-five minutes, when around the corner came a small boy moving at top speed. He hit me, ran over me, and kept on going. As I was struggling to get up, I could see him coming around for another lap. Only a desperation dive kept me from another beating. Since that day I've had no trouble understanding why our track team has done so well. Take a lesson from me and steer clear of basement corridors, where replacements for Sully, Bob, Dan, Zeke, and Dick are practicing.

BASKETBALL

MR. HASKELL
Coach

You've always tried to tell me that basketball is more exciting to watch than football, and you're probably right. I know that a great many people have yelled themselves hoarse in the gym rooting Milton into the Tech Tourney. And this year seems to be more exciting than any other with Bobby and Don working together, and the two Dicks pouring in clutch points. The reason these boys have such successful seasons is that they love to play the game. Sometimes, they insist on staying at practice until five-thirty or six.

MR. CARNIE
Coach

We respect the stamina of the football team and the endurance of the basketball team, but I would place the hockey team on a par with either. From early in November until the close of the season, Dave endured untold agonies. When it snowed, rained, or even when the sun shone, he suffered. He was at the same time the greatest optimist and the worst pessimist I have yet met. If there was ice, he was sure it would melt before school was dismissed, and if there was no ice, he always looked hopefully for signs of a cold wave. Pepper, Dan, Bob, and all the other seniors will be greatly missed by the team which managed, in spite of the weather, to earn an impressive record.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

MISS CONANT
Coach

To the uninitiated, girls' basketball is a maze of penalties, rules and complications. This I can assert from experience because others have tried to initiate me into the mysteries of their sport. Invariably they become so excited by their story that the conversation ends in an argument as to which of the teams is the better. All I've been able to learn so far is that the Southern states, notably North Carolina, have recovered from the Civil War and are holding their own. Anything else I may have learned is disputed so violently that to repeat it would draw upon myself the wrath of some part of the Union. The Kays, Diane,, and Margie would all have something to say about the ability of their respective teams.

Football, hockey, and other sports may have their interesting features, but they are really nothing compared to field hockey. This may be a little steep for the average, contented, athletic-minded boy to swallow, but this is the claim which Jean, Cadge, and Kay make. I will admit that it does seem a little odd to equip a group of girls with sticks for the sole purpose of clubbing each other. If they are going to do it, though, why do they collect their shields after they have finished playing? It would be better to give them out ahead of time. The number of girls that live to complete the season shows that field hockey has an appeal which we understand no more than the girls seem to understand football.

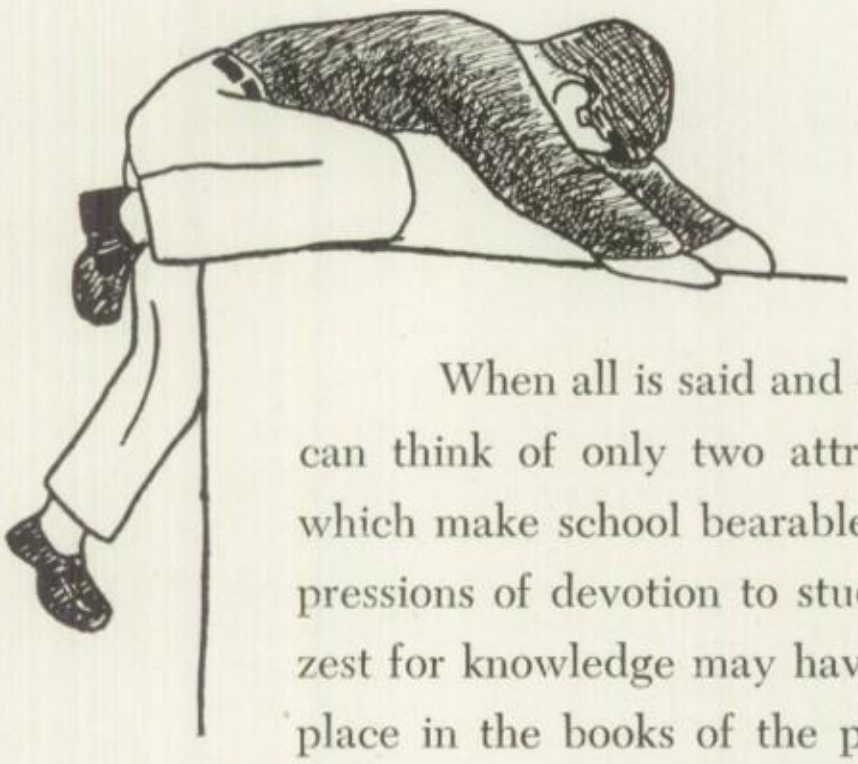
Activities



When all is said and done, I can think of only two attractions which make school bearable. Expressions of devotion to study and zest for knowledge may have their place in the books of the philosophers, but sports and clubs furnish a much more realistic appeal. They give us a chance to take part, to meet people, and, for the seniors at least, an opportunity to assert ourselves and to have a part in directing something. I know that it is treason for me to say this, but frankly, if the program of clubs and activities were discontinued, the educational requirements would become very monotonous.

Every school has, I suppose, its own group of superior students who have distinguished themselves by their academic record. Our class, however, seems to me to be particularly fortunate in that respect. I say fortunate because there is always a tendency, especially among the seniors, to neglect the studies in favor of other pursuits; and the achievements of our scholars have rescued our class from oblivion. In this respect, it is curious to discover that, year after year, the faces on this page also appear prominently on a number of other pages. I guess this does a fair job of exploding the myth that students attain the Honor Roll only by neglecting other activities. This is certainly not true as a general rule and even less true with the ones who, this year, were willing to work hard enough to succeed. As you can see at a glance, the seniors on this page rose above the rest of us not only in marks but also quite often in other fields of endeavor.

STUDENT COUNCIL

MISS FOSTER
Adviser

I am often puzzled about my increased awareness of the Student Council. Perhaps, since I am a senior, I am closer to the center of its activities. The members perform their assigned tasks almost too efficiently. So quietly and competently do they go about their work, that all I have to attest to their actions are the deeds, completed and done with. An instance of this is the Harvest Dance. I happened to arrive early, and I had a good chance to watch John, Don, Jean, Gildo and the junior members in action. Without appearing at all harried or distraught they managed to see that every one had a wonderful time. All through the year the members do their good work, but to catch a glimpse of them at work you must come early or stay late.

The Homeroom Assembly, by bridging the gap between the Student Council and the student body, assures us that our government maintains the necessary close touch with the students. This year under the leadership of Dick Gallery and Carole Johnson the Assembly has carried out its assigned functions well. Because of the energy and willingness of all the members, the Harvest Dance was well attended and was a highlight of the school year. This year we were particularly fortunate in having as our senior delegates Alan Swan, Henry Nelson, and William Densmore in addition to the two senior officers.

Sitting here with a copy of the winter issue of the Echo before me, I have no trouble understanding why the school magazine is so popular. As I look at the cover, it seems to come alive. The light in the lamp-post reveals snow covered streets and nearby buildings. Dave's cover is drawn in the same spirit that the issue is assembled. The articles by the editors, Wyman and Al, are timely and sincere. Sallie's illustrations and the locals by the two Junes add to the interest of the book. Phil's commentaries on the season's sports events help to make the book a worthwhile record of our senior year.

YEARBOOK

MISS TWISS and MISS GOLDMAN
Yearbook Advisers

How can I describe the wonderful qualities of co-operation and friendliness which I found on the Yearbook staff. Once they had decided upon me, as the senior to relate their story, they gave me unlimited assistance and yet insisted that I take full credit. Without the aid of Pixie, Cadge, and Eddy, I would have failed before I began. Jean and Dick supported me in my search for material about the seniors, while Phil, Carol and all the others carried me over many rough spots. Even the ones who came in after school to spread peanut butter on crackers were helping.

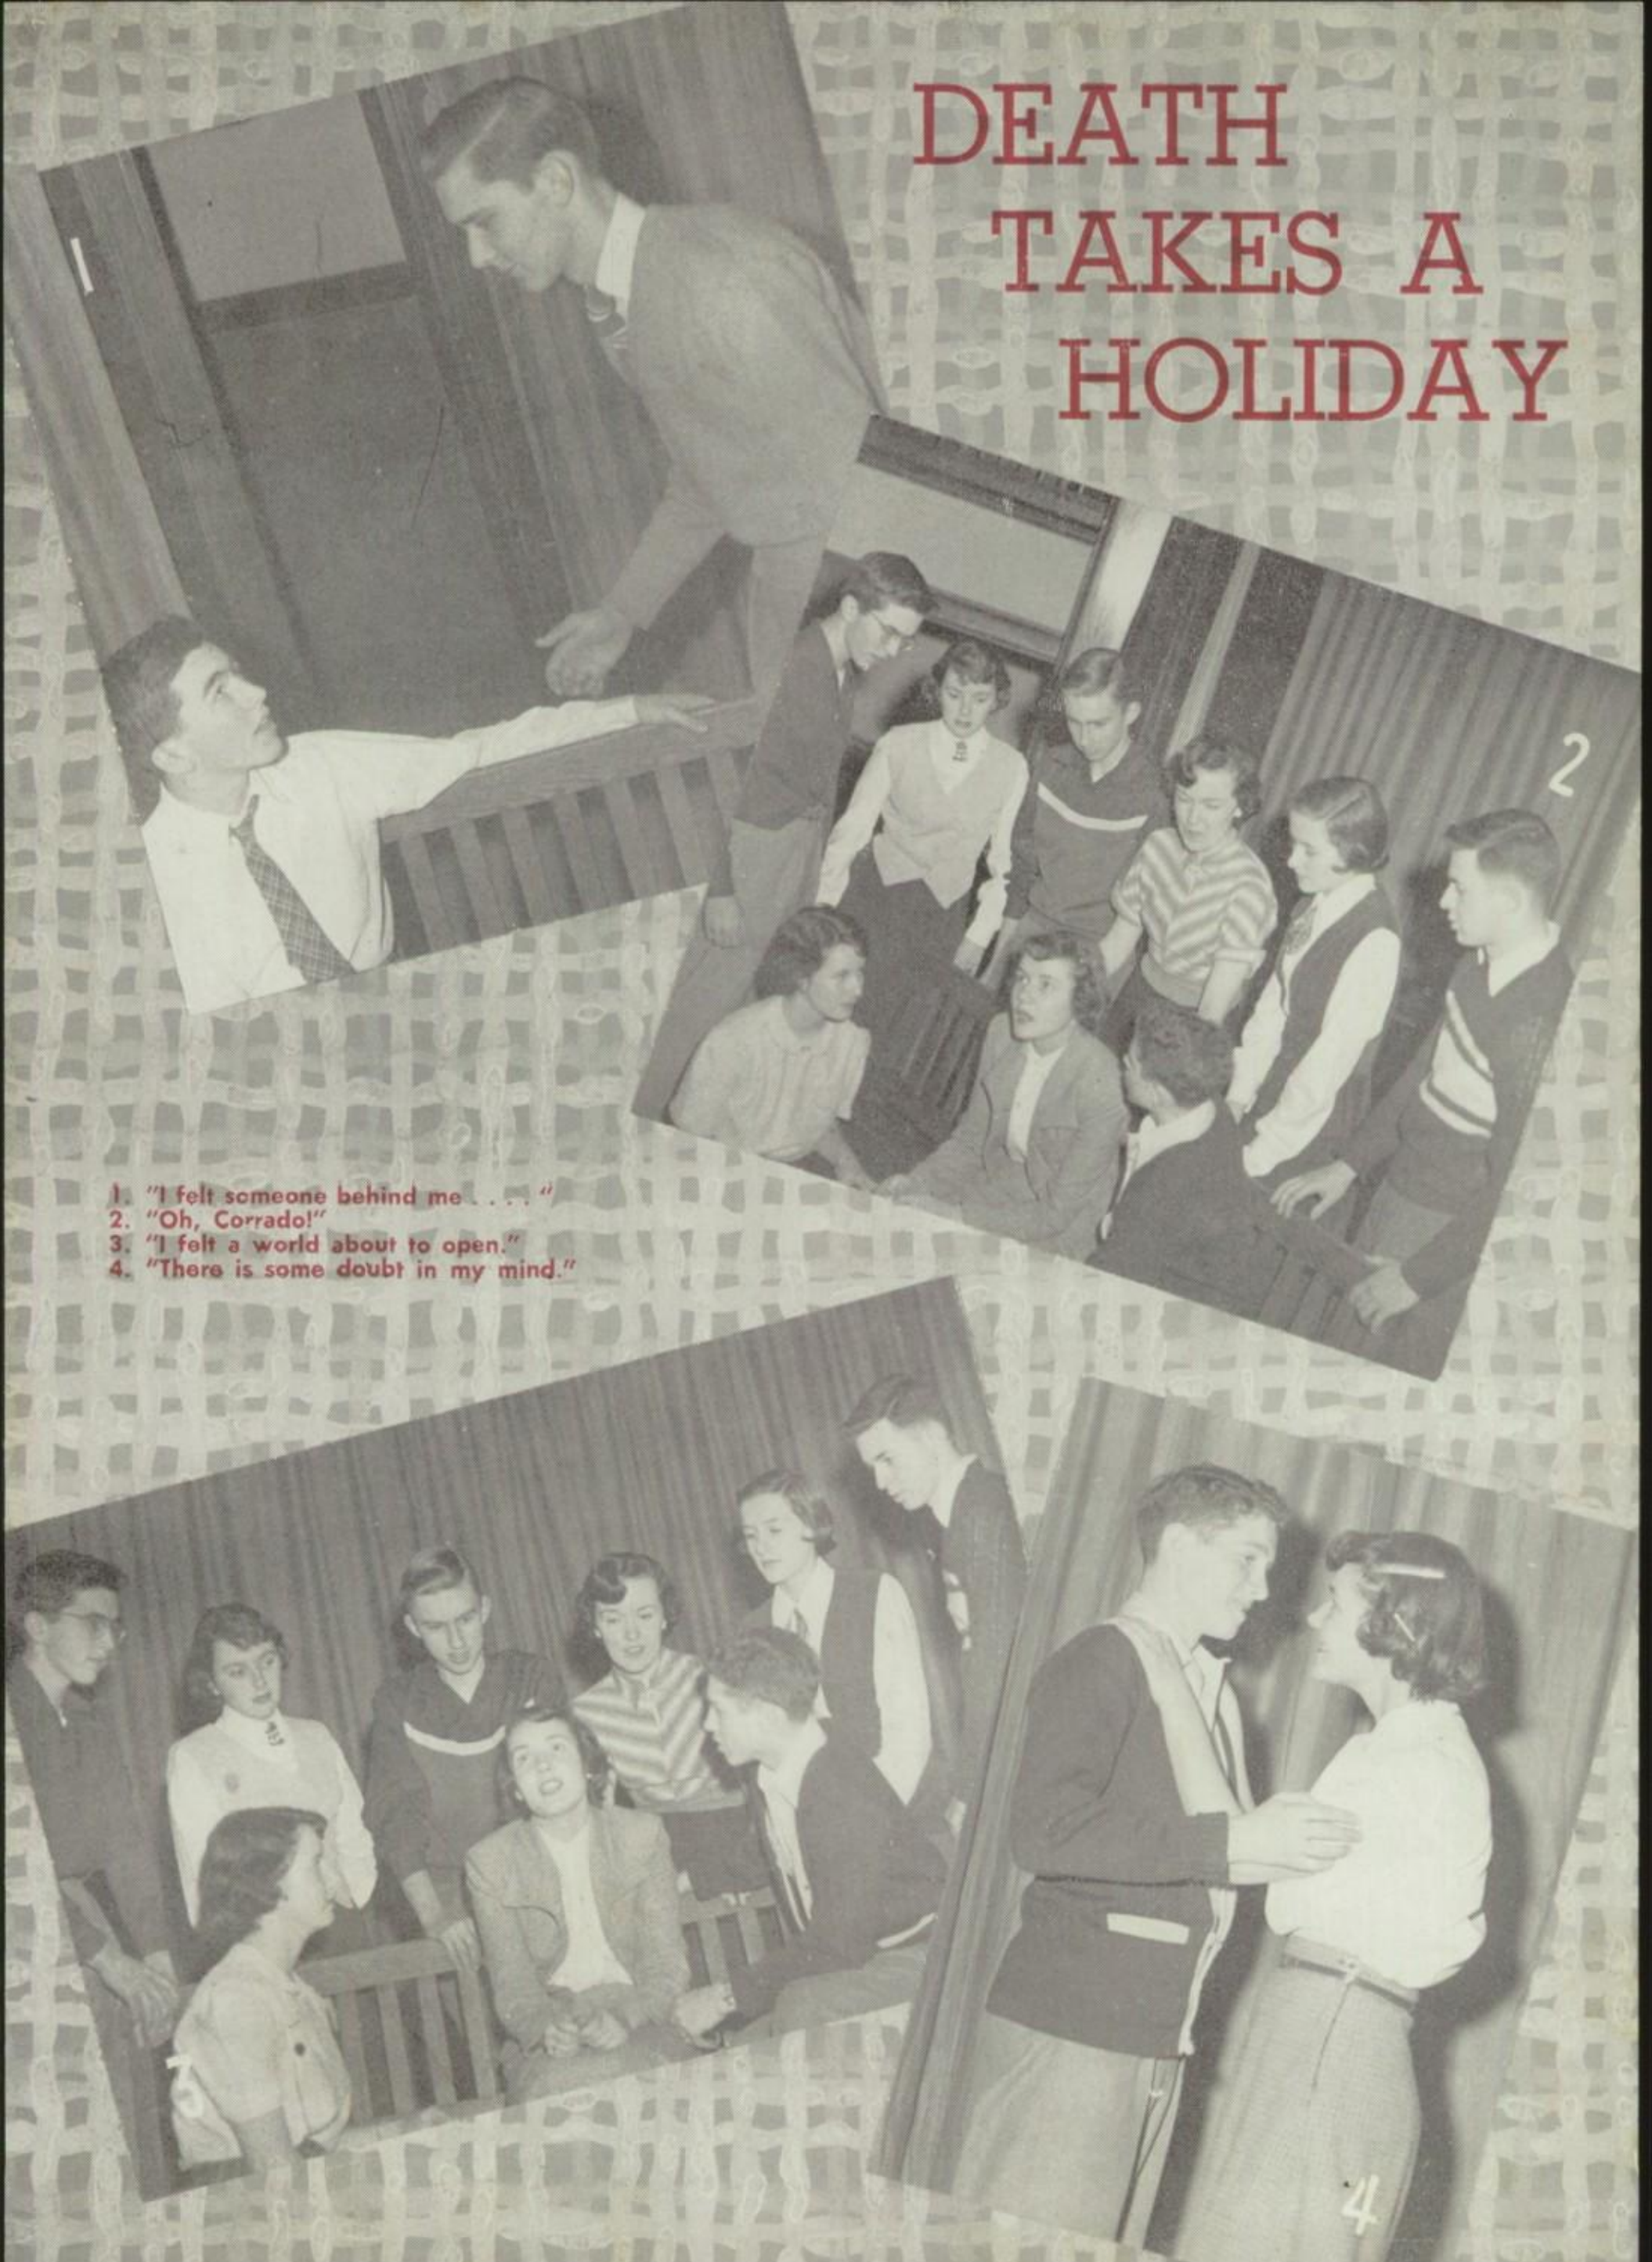
DRAMATIC CLUB

MISS PARTRIDGE
Coach

Seated out in front of the stage, I can draw a deep breath, relax, and enjoy the performance of my fellow club members. For the beauty of the Dramatic Club is that each and every member can participate during the year. Although I have secret doubts about my own acting ability, I would be satisfied if I knew I had one half the talent each play presents. Dan Melley, the president, June Shank, June Dimock, John Mahoney, and the other bright lights of our theatrical world have set a standard for future seniors. In what was admittedly the most difficult piece to have been attempted, "Death Takes a Holiday", the seniors were eminently successful.

DEATH TAKES A HOLIDAY



1. "I felt someone behind me . . . "
2. "Oh, Corrado!"
3. "I felt a world about to open."
4. "There is some doubt in my mind."

MISS NEYLAN
Adviser

I have had several interesting and enlightening encounters with the Latin-American Club. The first occurred when the club presented, for the pleasure of the school, an assembly on our South American neighbors. Again when I was in the assembly hall for one reason or another, Al entered and studied the stage to determine where to position his cast in the forthcoming play. He had derived a unique and totally different method of switching scenes, to be used in the production of his original play. Phil and Art, both past members, are not normally overtalkative; but are enthusiastic about the books reviewed at the meetings. Betty Polaski, their president, and the other members are never retiring when the time comes to explain the outstanding features of their pet club. With all these students agreeing on the value and worth of the Latin-American Club, I will climb on the bandwagon and heartily subscribe.

PHOTOGRAPHY CLUB

Pope had a line, "Or where the pictures for the page atone," which I quote here as having a doubly significant meaning. Surely the dullness of our printed page is relieved by the portrait of our Photography Club. Perhaps that explains the interest which picture collecting holds for such a large and successful portion of our class. All of the members from Jimmy, the president, and Archie, the vice-president, right down to the sophomores have, in common, a desire to snap the shutter on a prize winning picture or develop, in the darkroom, a new and different composition. There is no doubt in my mind that for as long as Kodak can meet the demand, there will be more enthusiastic students to replace Bob, Don, Dan, and the other seniors who have left in search of new exposures.

ORCHESTRA

MR. TATRO
Adviser

Proof of a wide range of interests at our school is the popularity of the orchestra with a small but impressive group of seniors. This is as it should be, for our orchestra adds meaning and worth to the list of activities. None of the others require such ability and interest. Poor ability would find no place in our orchestra, where perfection is considered the only worthwhile goal. The long hours of practice in the search for that last full measure of perfection call for the stimulus of intense interest. When Kaupp, Edith Schwab, and Betty Dunn depart, they will carry with them fond memories of their days in the orchestra, and will leave behind them good wishes to their successors.

The reasons why I didn't join the Glee Club seem insignificant when Bob Fandel, Sue Walsh, and some of my other friends tell me of the enjoyment which I missed. To speak the truth, I don't have a very musical voice and there is no place in our Glee Club for me. You see I've heard them sing and I know. I think wistfully of all the fun I've missed. Of course I shouldn't overlook the hours of practicing they spent. But when you're producing something fine and inspiring like beautiful music, it isn't really work, is it? It is more to be considered a rare privilege.

MISS MURDOCK
Adviser

There is little doubt in my mind that our political and economic life in several years will be completely controlled by women. They will be able to point to the high school Girls' League as the experience which gave them their start. The League does have a greater part in our outside activities than almost any other organization. Certainly it has much influence over the lives and attitudes of the sophomore girls. Under the direction of Janet Christensen, the president, and Louise Cooper, the secretary, the girls have added another well-attended dance to their program, possibly to give the members two chances to express a preference in the date department. They wisely preserve for themselves their women's prerogative to change their minds.

RADIO CLUB

MR. BENNETT
Adviser

In spite of the current demand for television, the Radio Club is still a flourishing organization. As its president, John O'Connell, has more than once informed me, it has a very active membership. If you should happen to take your radio apart and not know how to get it together again, you may solve your problem easily. Apply to the Radio Club. With their experience in such matters they should know how to fix it. In fact that is the best feature of this association. Not only do the members have a good time but also learn a very useful skill. In future years Janet and Margie will be able to look back to the Radio Club, where they received their first instruction in the mysteries of radio.

The members of the Aeronautics Club keep their feet on the ground and their thoughts in the sky. I have also noticed in my trips to 118 that the membership has kept up with the latest changes in the world of aircraft. It is particularly fitting that Milton High should have an Aeronautics Club since so many of our graduates have been affiliated with the Air Force. While I hope that the members will have a more peaceful future, it is reassuring to me to think what an asset their experience in the Aeronautics Club will be. The president, John S. Ahearn, Sylvester, and Connors have helped to maintain the reputation of the club as one in which much is learned with a great deal of enjoyment and satisfaction.

MISS REED
Adviser

The name which the undergraduates chose for their group misled me completely. Before becoming acquainted with this recent addition to our activities, I had visions of sophomores and juniors dashing off lines of poetry and volumes of prose. Perhaps my own experiences in English classes confused me as to the speed with which they composed. A conversation with some of their active members soon convinced me that each piece is a labor of love and that they spend a good deal of the time producing their epics. Names like Cronk, Grady, and Stocker are already famous in literary circles at the high school and given another year or two they should almost equal the bright lights of our own class.

At every movie at the high school, there is sure to be a projector, and with every projector you will find a member of the Screen Guild. In this manner, by becoming indispensable links between the film and the eye, the members have spread the truth that their club is essential and worthwhile. Membership in this club is an excellent breeder of calmness of mind. When the camera breaks down, there is only one thing to do — fix it. Yet it is a trying situation as John O'Connell, Marie Winslow, or any of the others, who have experienced it, can attest.

MR. BROWN
Adviser

I recently had an experience which has impressed upon me the caliber of mental stamina necessary to finish a chess match. I had just asked a fellow senior how he managed to get out of study so regularly. When he replied that he was a member of the Chess Club, I inquired as to the difficulty of becoming a member. With this in mind, we entered upon a discussion of the game of chess, at least he discussed. After the first few moves in the conversation, I was soon lost in a maze of checks, counter-checks, whatever they are, and various other strategic maneuvers. I learned, however, that it is possible to enjoy a good game of chess. When Bob and Phil graduate this year, the Club will lose some of its most active members.

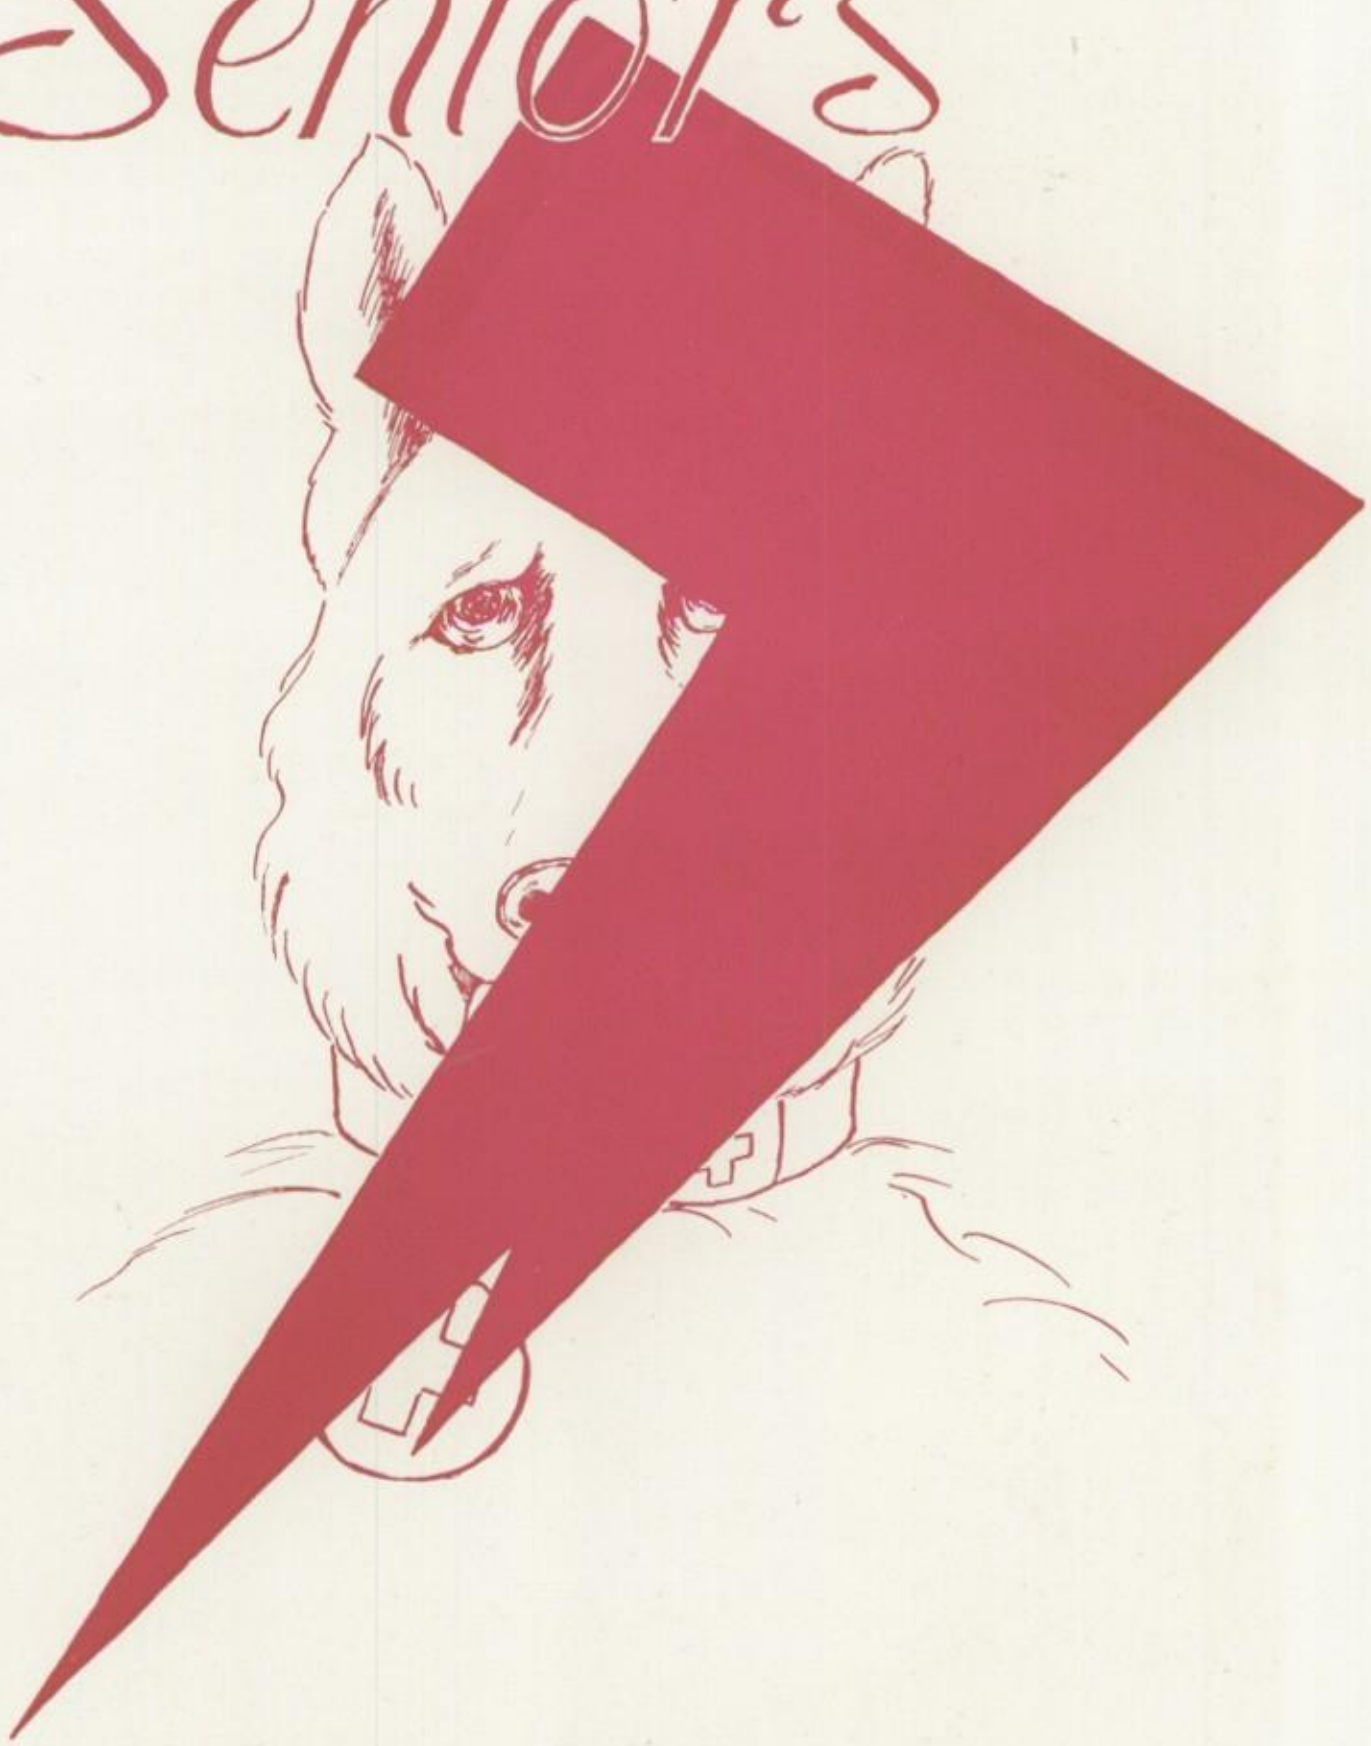
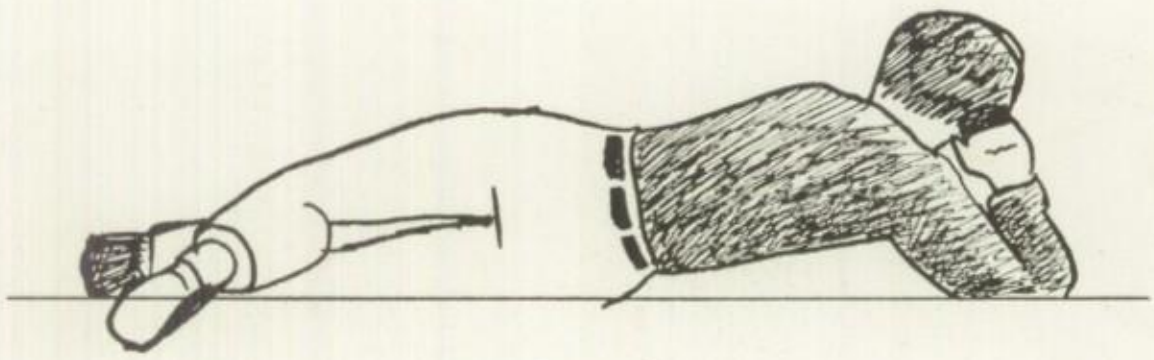
Seniors





The only thing which we object to as seniors is that we are only on top for a brief year. Here at the summit of the long climb through the schools I have stopped for a moment to survey the path we ascended. While deciding upon the next step, I glance at my fellow seniors. Perhaps at the high altitude I fail to take into consideration the refraction of the light rays and then, too, a mysterious cloud usually enshrouds mountain tops. I have tried to pierce the fog.

ALLEGIANCE

O, Milton High, to you alway
We'll bring devotion firm and true.
And this we promise you today
We'll honor you in all we do.
From loyal hearts we bring forth cheers
And sing your praises to the sky.
We'll guard your name throughout the years
For you, dear Milton High.

We go, but through the years ahead
At home or 'cross the wide, wide sea,
We'll think of happy days we led
Beneath your calm security
When books and halls and teachers, too,
Are mem'ries of a day gone by,
Still our allegiance will be true
To you, dear Milton High.

JOHN F. AHEARN
56 Howe Street Work

"Johno," a good sport, can always be relied upon to furnish conversation at the school dances, where he may be found seated with at least one admirer present. We respect his selflessness in sublimating his love for dancing to his desire to please.

Baseball 2.

CLARE ANDERSON
30 Brackett St. Dental Assis't.

Clare, a serious senior with a broad outlook on life, conscientiously does her homework. By becoming intimately acquainted with Clare one can appreciate her subtle sense of humor.

Dramatic Club 1, 2, 3; Field Hockey 3.

JOHN S. AHEARN
11 Buckingham Rd. College

It was an accident that John broke his leg and the football team lost three consecutive games. We share the sorrows of the football team and sympathize with John.

Football 1, 3; Screen Guild 2, 3; Track 2; Photography Club 3; Aeronautics Club 3.

FRANKLIN ARTHUR
635 Pleasant St. College

Frankie's quiet, self-contained ways should not be confused with shyness or false modesty. They are rather the discretion of a self-assured person who gains recognition through his very presence.

Basketball 1, 2, 3; Home Room Delegate 1.

BRUCE ALEXANDER
143 Woodland Rd. College

Bruce's watchwords: "If you like people, people will like you," explain his popularity with the teachers.

Not every dog trainer is so ideally suited in temperament as Ann. She applies self-restraint and poise to her association with her fellow-creatures.

Field Hockey 1; Basketball 1, 2, 3; French Club 2; Dramatic Club 2, 3.

MARGARET BERTRAM
89 Bryant Ave. Secretary

Bert has the two noblest possessions, sweetness and light. All who have watched her dance or have heard her talk will realize her lightness and her naive simplicity. We hope she lives all the days of her life.

Basketball 1, 2, 3.

BARBARA BLAKE
66 Grafton Ave. Work

"Blakie" can always be heard cheering loudly at the games. She not only enjoys watching a good football or basketball game but she also enjoys participating in them herself.

Field Hockey 1, 2, 3; Basketball 1, 2; Softball 1, 2; Latin American Club 2; Girls' League Committee 2.

BURTON BROWN
7 Laurel Rd. College

Burtie's sense of rhythm enabled him to keep time with the drum majorettes as he marched down the middle of our football field.

Band 1, 2, 3; Dramatic Club 1; French Club 2; Scribblers Club 2; Photography Club 3; Current Events Club 3.

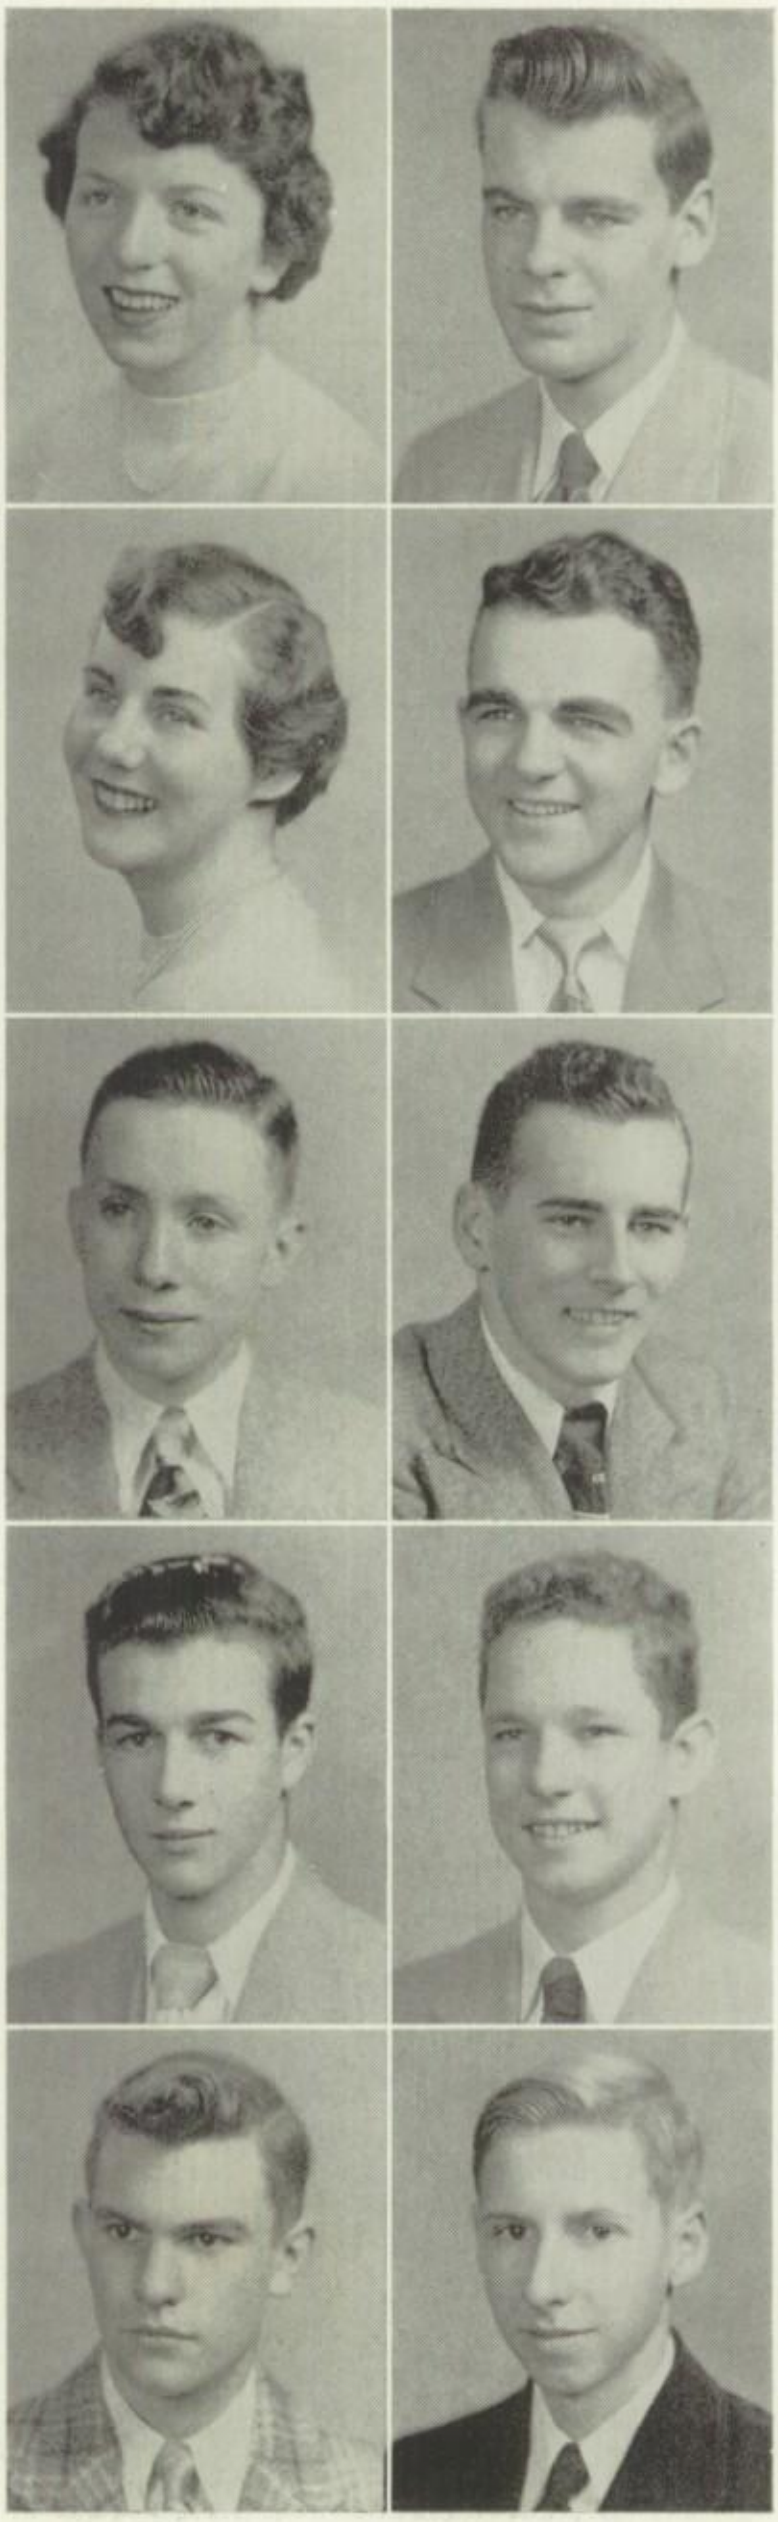
DONALD BROWN
720 Canton Ave. Work

As Swift pointed out, those who can make two ears of corn grow where one was before are doing more essential service than all the politicians in the world. Don has been doing his share to alleviate the national debt and will without doubt continue to do so.

Photography Club 3; Screen Guild 3.

PAUL BUCKLEY
63 Huntington Rd. Navy

If it is qualities of co-operation and dependability that the Navy wants, we will recommend "P. K." He should be a great asset to our armed forces in which he hopes to make his career. Paul spends most of his spare time in the bowling alley practicing up on his game.



THOMAS BUCKLEY
132 Otis St. Work

The vicissitudes of Tom's outlook enable him to present a constantly fresh attitude toward work and school. At the same time he never seemed to have a minute to spare for idle conversation before or after school.

WILLIAM BUONAGURIO
35 Revere St. College

From an able, respected guard on the football team, Bill has become a necessary part of the National Guard. There is no need for us to fear war if there are more men like Bill guarding our shores.

ROBERT BURGESS
21 Mechanic St. College

Bob is so popular that everyone would gladly wish him good luck on his proposed rocket trip to Mars. We can't understand why such a friendly fellow should wish to be a fight promoter.

Honor Roll three times.

ALAN BURT
16 Winthrop St. College

All that he will have to do is accelerate a little to change from a cyclist into an Air Force officer. Al is a prominent member of the "Rough Riders."

Cross Country 1, 2; Scribblers Club 2; "Unquity Echo" Staff 3; Honor Roll five times.

ROGER BUTTERWORTH
124 Pleasant St. College

Roger has wisely spent his spare time experimenting with his motor bike instead of wasting it on more trivial pastimes. Roger's diligence in study periods and liking for gym have made him a versatile student.

BETH ANN CANNING

233 Eliot St. College

Beth was very happy to escape to Milton from prosaic California. It was too bad she had to go back but not everyone has the luck to live in "beautiful" Milton. She will be noticed for her different and striking appearance.

BARRY CARLE

83 Blue Hill Terr. College

Because of his skill with farce and dialogue, Barry should succeed as a showman. He has unconsciously plagiarized from that greatest of all showman, P. T. Barnum, whose words he would do well to remember. "There is a fool born every minute."

Photography Club 3; Track 3; Hockey 3; Honor Roll once.

MARY CARUSO

100 Plymouth Ave. College

Mary seems eager to please us all. Her co-operation and willingness fit her to the pattern into which our high school seems to fall.

PAUL FEIN

69 Church St. Forestry

Paul is a quiet industrious boy, very talented in manual arts. Although an able pitcher for the Mohawks, Paul intends to give up baseball and become a forest ranger. There is something fine and noble in his desire to help and protect unfortunate trees.

WARREN FERDINAND

75 Maple St. College

With some people a broad grin is the expression of an empty mind. Ferdie's mind is void only of worry. All the other desirable elements are there.

Dramatic Club 1, 2; Tennis 1, Manager 2; Scribblers Club 2; French Club 2, 3; Football Manager 3; Screen Guild 3.

MILDRED FERREIRA

24 Bassett St. Business

Millie's conversation is the subject of much speculation. She is one of those fascinating women who always know interesting facts whether concerning people or the places they have been. Millie says twice as much because she talks twice as fast.

MITCHELL FINER
379 Central Ave. School

Mitch was one of the few guards, of whom there were many on the football team, whose performance could be predicted accurately. Defensively, he carried out his own block perfectly, and offensively, the runner never got by him.

STEPHEN FORDE
115 Warren Ave. Work

Fordo is enjoyed by fellow students for his quiet, witty humor and reliable friendship. His tall, slim frame is as welcome a sight in 208 as in the pivot position of a basketball court. Steve's conscientious manner and quiet assurance are an invaluable asset to him on his job at the A. & P.

PAUL FINERTY
4 Dean Rd. Art School

It is out of the mouths of men like Paul that we will draw inspiration in the years to come. His imagination and perception should send him far in the field of commercial art.

Football 1, 2, 3; Hockey 2; French Club 2; Yearbook 3; Honor Roll once.

JAMES FREEMAN
162 Central Ave. Business

In Jim are mixed all the salient features of our fellow Americans: A love for fair competitive sports, as those of our collegiate system; desire for education as evidenced by the popularity of the schools; and independence of opinion, as proved at the polls.

FREDERICK FORBES
75 Meagher Ave. College

In view of the time spent in the drugstore, "Dedda" should become experienced in the finer points of the pharmacopoeial arts. Because of his feeling for school he does well in his favorite subject, woodworking.

Basketball 1; Chorus 1; Track 2, 3; Photography Club 2, 3; Dramatic Club 3; Hockey 3.

VIRGINIA GAFFEY
230 Edge Hill Rd. Nursing

In spite of her predilection for nursing there is something in arranging flowers like hollyhocks or gardenias that would suit Ginny's temperament.

Orchestra 1, 2, 3; Dramatic Club 1, 2, 3; French Club 2, President 2; Glee Club 2, 3; Yearbook Editor 3.

WILLIAM FORD
376 Blue Hills Pkwy College

Fordo's most highly developed skill is his happy ability to plant in the minds of downtrodden people the idea that they themselves have no control over their fate.

Basketball 1, 2; Football 2, 3; Track 1, 2, 3; Drumatic Club 2, 3; Home Room Alternate 1; Hockey 3.

GEORGE GALLAGHER
6 Fairfax Rd. College

Slim's clothes are the expression of a personality that is bright and cheerful without being flippant or pert. Before Crosby had even made an impression on us, Georgie's shirts were fascinating Central Junior High.

Football 1; Dramatic Club 2, 3; Hockey 2, 3; Home Room Alternate 2.

RICHARD GALLERY

Students of the wisdom of Diogenes will understand that Gil very closely represents Plato's definition of the qualities of a true man. He has been learning by the precepts of his friends and teachers the things which we expect him to put into practice as a man.

JOHN GERAH

21 Granite Place Business

There will always be a place in the highly competitive field of accounting for a youth with John's tenacity and stamina. His qualities of imagination and resourcefulness gave him a head start on his paper route.

Hockey 3; Basketball 3.

PATRICIA GLANCY

229 Brook Rd. Work

If you have any problems of a culinary nature inquire of Pat. She takes a personal interest in her good cooking and as a result her whole being is suffused with jollity. She realizes that the customer must be right.

Latin-American Club 3; Basketball 3; Softball 3.

LAWRENCE GETTINGS

160 Blue Hill Ave. College

Although Coon occasionally had trouble controlling his pepper on the gridiron, his efficiency won him the respect of all who played against him. Larry is a football player whom we would rather have on our team.

Football 1, 3; Dramatic Club 1, 2; Hockey 1; Honor Roll once.

FREDERICK GLYNN

7 Hillcrest Rd. Work

Terry will take what life gives with a calm, unruffled temper and rare abandon. Long noted for a selflessness of purpose he wants nothing better than to be a hardworking man.

J.V. Basketball 1; Honor Roll once.

MARILYN GETTINGS

65 Church St. Nursing

One would never know by looking at her that Mal lives under a constant shadow. Her omnipresent smile serves to allay any doubts one might have of her personality.

Dramatic Club 1, 2, 3; Basketball 1, 3; French Club 2, 3; Latin-American Club 1, 2; Girls' League Dramatic Committee 3; "Unquity Echo" Collector 3; Softball 3.

KATHERINE GORMAN

67 Houston Ave. College

Kay has been able to apply her winning skills in athletics to other fields, whether it be pursuit of a point in hockey or pursuit of the best that humanity has to offer.

Basketball 1, 2, 3; French Club 2, 3; Dramatic Club 2, 3; Softball 2, 3; Field Hockey 3; Latin-American Club 3.

ANITA GHERARDI

85 Pleasant St. Nursing

How Jerry seems to change her moods so often to accommodate the feelings of others will never cease to amaze us. Perhaps her radiant personality sets the tempo for all her associates.

Dramatic Club 1, 3; Girls' League Collector 2; Basketball 2, 3; Girls' League Committee 3; Field Hockey 3; Latin-American Club 3; Softball 3; Honor Roll once.

WILLIAM GRAZIANI

75 Houston Ave Business

While fools and idiots are diving for inaccessible pearls in the treacherous depths, Billy is contented with the flotsam on the surface which the others have neglected and overlooked in their eagerness to submerge themselves in the problem.

DORIS GUSTAFSON

7A Parkway Crescent College

Gussie has all the grace of a tennis player of the same name. While never to our knowledge did she try her hand at tennis she would probably succeed there as she has everywhere else.

Field Hockey 1; French Club 2; Latin-American Club 2, 3.

EDWARD HAZEL

15 Orchard Road Work

His remarks, tempered by understanding and humility, are never cutting or devastatingly sarcastic. He carefully avoids sharpening his wit to too keen a point. He thus saves himself the misfortune of having it blunted on the heads of fools. We can learn a lesson from Eddy.

JANET HAIGHT

46 Meagher Ave. College

Janet's pet peeve is people who laugh before she finishes a joke. Maybe if Janet would pause between jokes they would have a chance to catch their breath.

Field Hockey 1, 2; Basketball 1, 2, 3; Chorus 1, 3; French Club 2; Latin-American Club 2, 3; Softball 2, 3.

NEIL HEBB

76 Stoughton St. Business

Neil's actions are the expression of a philosophy that has been discussed and debated since the day of Epicurus. Few have the courage to live only for the present, yet all are envious of the happiness it brings.

Hockey 2, 3; Dramatic Club 2; Home Room Alternate 3.

CRASWELL HALEY

644 Brush Hill Rd. Agriculture

"Izzy," terrific as a conversationalist, will have no chance to practice his talents down on the farm. The poultry and livestock will furnish no such lively comebacks as he usually takes delight in facing.

ELENA HILL

44 Gordon Rd. College

When Keats said "Beauty is truth, truth beauty—that is all ye know on earth, and all ye need to know," he was describing in glowing terms Elena, our beautiful cheerleader.

Dramatic Club 1, 2; Cheerleading 2, 3; Latin-American Club 2, 3; Basketball 2, 3.

JEAN HARVEY

327 Thacher St. Business

Jean is reaping the rewards of an intense interest in the well-being of other people. Her disregard for her own best interests proves the contradiction of womankind.

Home Room Delegate 1, 2; Basketball 1, 2, 3; Dramatic Club 1, 2, 3; Field Hockey 3; Yearbook 3; Student Council Secretary 3.

ROBERT HOLDEN

78 Otis St. College

While others of our classmates were wasting their time on more frivolous pursuits, Bob developed the perseverance which made him an outstanding captain of finance in the field of news distribution.

Track 3; Honor Roll nine times.

ALAN HAUSER

71 Cheever St. College

There are some few students in every class whose wit, charm, good looks, and personality place them above the common herd. Who would deny Alan a place among these?

Track 2; Scribblers Club 2; Baseball 2, 3; Honor Roll ten times.

JOHN HOLMER

130 Elm St. College

Although Swede shows flashes of genius, especially in physics, he must needs rest each year at Milton in order to be in good shape for the spring and summer seasons.

Cross Country 1, 2, 3; Dramatic Club 1, 2, 3; Chess Club 1, 2; Indoor Track 2, 3; Outdoor Track 2, 3; A. A. Collector 1.

NANCY HOLMES
15 Norway Rd. Nursing

There is something appealing about Nance's manner that few care to resist. Perhaps it is because she is outspoken enough so that everyone realizes just where she stands.

Dramatic Club 1, 2, 3; Basketball 1, 2, 3; French Club 2; Softball 2, 3.

CAROLYN HOWIE
69 Garden St. Nursing

"How" has a sense of humor, enthusiasm, impulsiveness, and a natural manner, all characteristic of a Florence Nightingale. Although she is very industrious, she can be persuaded to leave her work.

Basketball 1, 2; Dramatic Club 1, 2; Softball 1, 2, 3; French Club 2; Honor Roll two times.

CAROLE JOHNSON
460 Central Ave. College

Unlike others of her class Cadge realizes that the bow strung too tightly is easily broken.

"Unquity Echo" Collector 1; Basketball 1, 2, 3; Dramatic Club 1, 2, 3; Girls' League Committee 1, 3; French Club 2; Senior Vice President Field Hockey 3; Student Council 2; Home Room Assembly Secretary 3; Latin-American Club 3; Editor Yearbook 3; Honor Roll four times.

CLAIRE JOHNSON
6 Howard St. Business

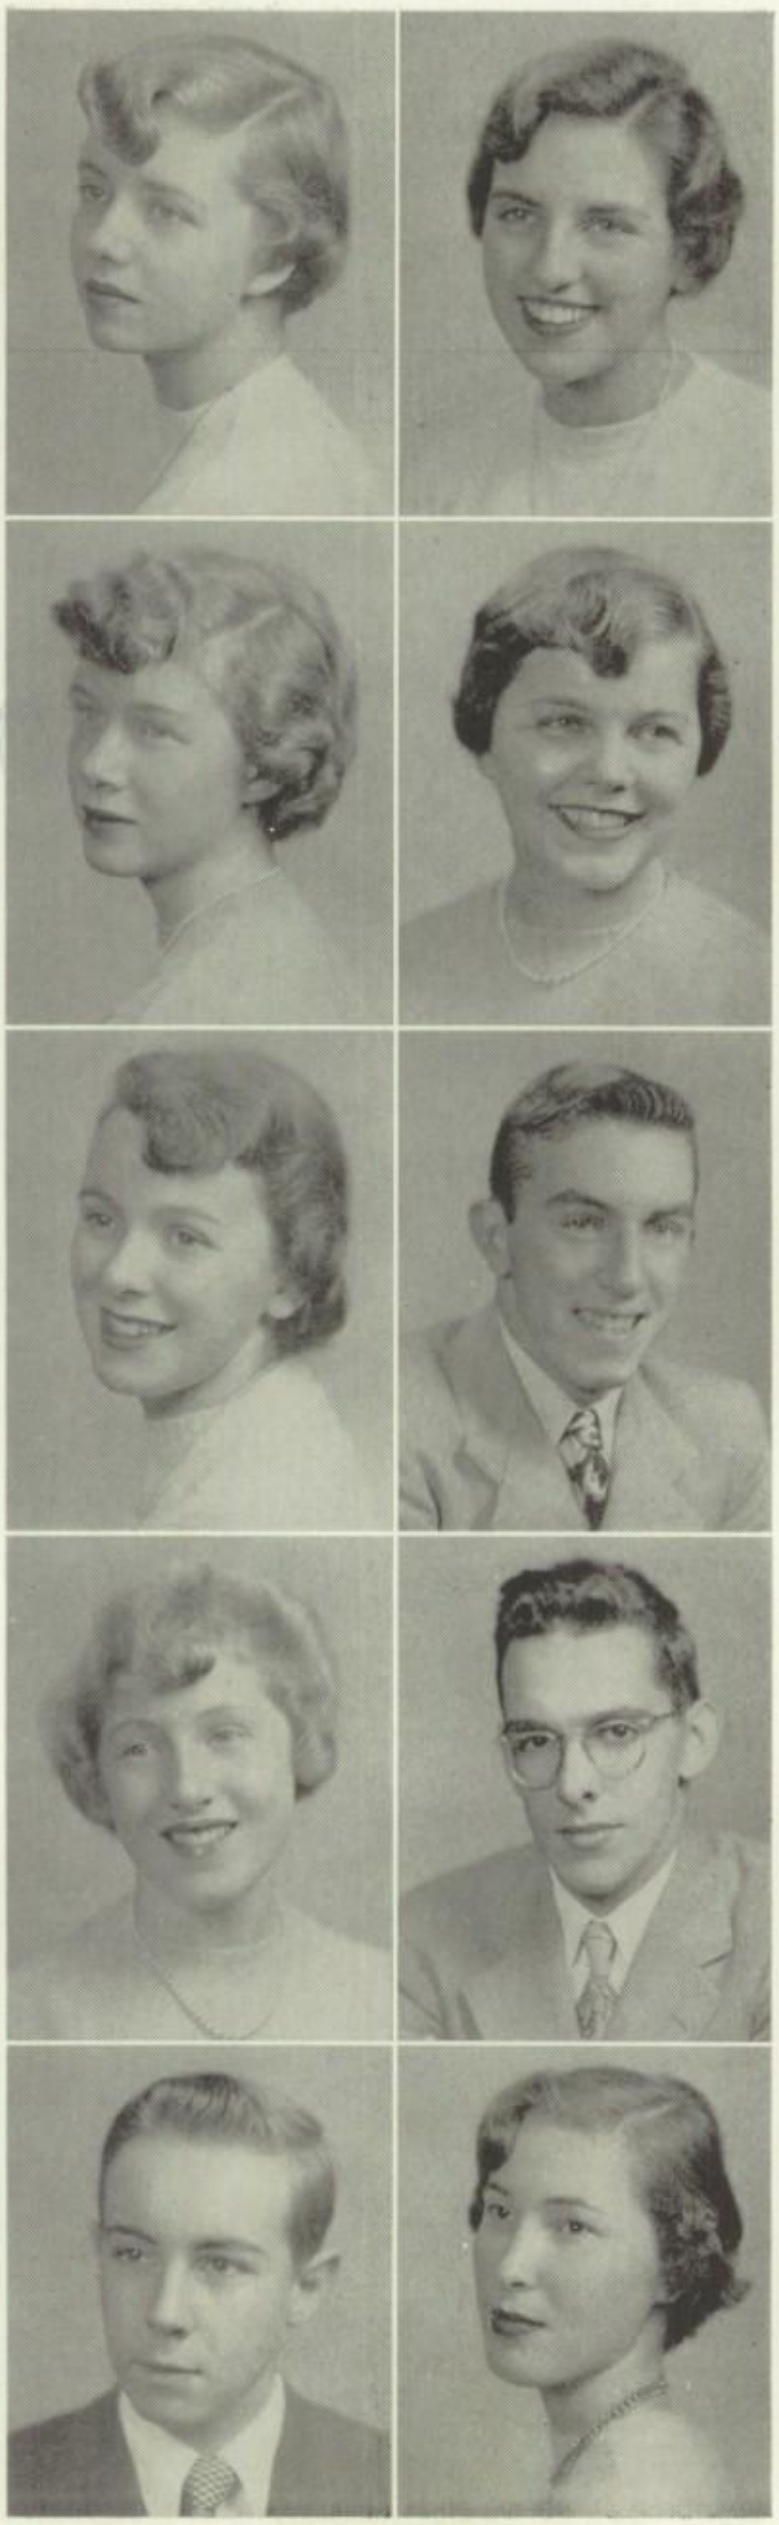
Claire's is a sympathetic heart, and she leaps to the aid of her friends in distress, never pausing to consider her own position.

Basketball 1, 2, 3; Dramatic Club 1, 2, 3; Softball 3; Girls' League Civic Committee 3; "Unquity Echo" Collector 3.

DONALD KAUPP
39 Aberdeen Rd. M. I. T.

"Benny" cuts a fine figure with the clarinet. Because of his youthful eagerness, he goes through fire and brimstone to get his trig. done on time.

Band 1, 2, 3; Glee Club 1, 2, 3; Orchestra 1, 2, 3; Photography Club 2, 3; Chorus 2; French Club 2; Current Events Club 3; Dramatic Club 3.



AUDREY KENDALL
64 Garden St. Business

After speaking, Audrey usually has a second thought which is even better than her first gem of wisdom.

Basketball 1, 2, 3; Dramatic Club 1, 2, 3; Girls' League Committee 1, 2, 3; Softball 1, 2, 3; Latin-American Club 2, 3; Radio Club 3; Screen Guild 3.

VIRGINIA KENDRIGAN
42 Courtland Circle Business

Come what may, "Ginny" should not worry. Happy are those who, like her, refuse to allow foolish obligations to prevent true enjoyment of life.

Basketball 1, 2, 3; Dramatic Club 1, 2, 3; Latin-American Club 2, 3; Girls' League Finance Committee 1, 2, 3; Softball 2, 3; Radio Club 3; Field Hockey 3; Honor Roll two times.

DAVID KILEY
20 Oak St. Work

If wit and charm could replace natural ability, "Dave's" scholastic record might have been improved. His strong throwing is well known to the athletic team.

Football 1, 2, 3; Track 2, 3; Baseball 2, 3; Dramatic Club 2.

EDWARD KING
245 Granite Ave. Business

Fate has dealt an unhappy blow to Eddy. He has done innumerable worthy acts and has passed over them in silence only to have them undiscovered by the undiscerning. His continued fame, however, is assured by his contributions to sand-lot baseball.

CYNTHIA KOLSTAD
60 Sassamon Ave. College

In the quiet smile of "Cyn", we discover a second Mona Lisa. Whom is she smiling to tempt? We are sure she is not hiding a broken heart.

Draamtic Club 1, 2, 3; Softball 1; "Unquity Echo" Staff 2; French Club 2; Yearbook Secretary 3; Girls' League Committee 3; Honor Roll two times.

HAROLD LADD
75 Thacher St. Serv. Station

In a lesser man Harry's dependability and good-nature might become irritating, but no one ever is angry with Harry. To what avail? Would one consciously become cross with a person of his stature and integrity?

Football 1, 2.

CAROLYN LEDEGANG
24 Belvoir Rd. Undecided

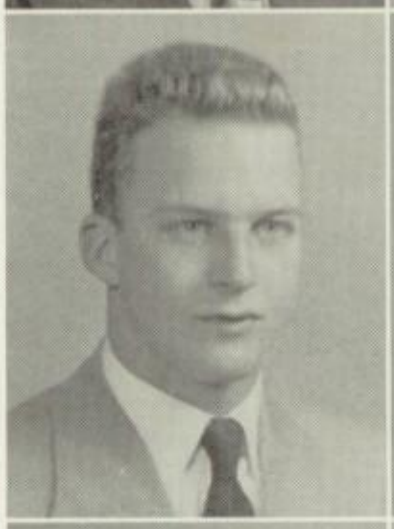
While others might strive in vain to be universally liked, Carolyn would be satisfied if she were sought after by just half the world.

Glee Club 1, 2, 3; Dramatic Club 1, 2, 3; Yearbook Secretary 3; Latin-American Club 3; Basketball 3; Softball 3.

DONALD LAKE
22 Glendale Rd. College

Donny, an ardent baseball participant, has never had to play the field. He is an outstanding scholar and a man of letters.

Football 1, 2, Co-Capt. 3; Home Room Delegate 1; Student Council 2, 3; Basketball 1, 2, 3; Baseball 1, 2, 3; Honor Roll five times.



LOIS LEE
19 Augusta Rd. College

Lois and all like her, who put music before self, have made our band admired throughout the state as the most nearly finished product we have had in years. Perhaps her practice as drum majorette gave her the good form she enjoyed on the golf course.

Dramatic Club 1, 3; Latin-American Club 2; Drum Majorette 1, 2, Head 3.

ARTHUR LALLY
20 Rowe St. College

Arthur's tanned athletic body proves what sports-activities can do for a scholar. It is little wonder he is so popular with the girls.

Latin-American Club 2, 3; French Club 2, 3; Athletic Collector 2.

JANICE LEVINE
623 Blue Hills Pkwy. College

Some people can travel through life without causing comment. Others, however, like Jan, have a certain something which attracts attention. If she wished to muster all her resources, they would enable her to become an exceptional doctor.

"Unquity Echo" Collector 3; Dramatic Club 3.

ELIZABETH LARRABEE
19 School St. Work

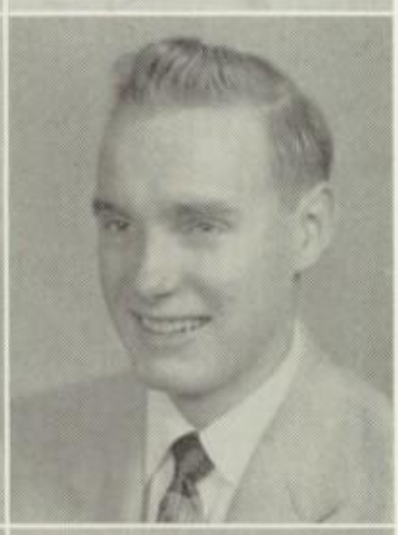
Quiet, sedate, lady-like Bett blandly looks upon this noisy world with a puzzled expression. Much can be accomplished without the bustling commotion necessary for the completion of our daily tasks.

Dramatic Club 1, 2, 3; Chorus 1, 2; Basketball 2, 3; Latin-American Club 3.

JOHN LEVINS
27 Alvin Ave. College

Uncle John's sage advice about women has been heeded by all, except one. A conscientious driver, he always keeps both hands on the wheel.

Home Room Assembly 1, 2, 3; Scribblers Club 2; French Club 2; A. A. Collector 3; Honor Roll once.



THOMAS LAWLESS
14 Brookside Park Work

Tom's ambitious nature has led him up each consecutive rung of the social ladder until his most memorable day in high school when he met "Big Joe." His desires fulfilled, he can now fizzle it out with the best soda jerks in town.

Radio Club 1, 3; Hockey 3.

MARILYN LEWIS
78 Washington St. Secretary

It is always a pleasure to meet a person with individuality enough to forsake the gang for the benefit of increased education. Proving her disregard for cliques, Mal joined the woodworking class.

Cheerleading 2, 3; "Unquity Echo" Collector 1; Dramatic Club 1, 2, 3; Basketball 1, 2, 3; Latin-American Club 2; Softball 3.

EDWARD LINCOLN

31 Canton Ave. College

Eddie has a remarkable ability to immerse himself in his problems. Whether winning his audience with his drums or with his easy oratory, he has made an indelible impression on his classmates.

Band 1, 2, 3; Orchestra 2, 3; Glee Club 1; French Club 2; Yearbook Staff 3; Honor Roll six times.

DAVID LYONS

20 Antwerp St. Undecided

Dave would be inconspicuous at Milton if he did not keep his bushel of talents constantly under the light. His mechanical brain keeps him interested in cars, while his ambitions waver between basketball and which way to turn automobiles.

Basketball 3.

CAROLINE LYDON

10 Governors Rd. Nursing

Lydie's seemingly calm outlook is broken by static stretches of temper. She spends most of her time playing nursemaid, but the spitfires don't keep her from Canteen. Her smooth and unruffled exterior envelops a determined and independent interior.

Glee Club 1, 2, 3.

THOMAS LYNCH

168 Brook Rd. College

Because no one ever scores a point with Tom, he never suffers from a love game. He applies elsewhere the cool calculating spirit which makes him a good math student and an outstanding tennis player.

Tennis 1, 2, Captain 3; Chess Club 1, 2; "Unquity Echo" Collector 2; Indoor Track 3; Honor Roll six times.

THOMAS MacLAUGHLIN

67 Lyman Rd. College

Tommy, to our knowledge, has never been bested in an argument. His quick mind, working ahead of and around problems, soon leads him to conclusions that are not obvious to the less gifted.

Cross Country 1, 2, 3, Co-Captain 3; Basketball 1; Indoor Track 2, 3; Outdoor Track 1, 2, 3; Yearbook 3; Honor Roll nine times.

CAROL MAHON

81 Reservation Rd. College

Can you picture a quiet, dark-haired girl riding quietly through the Blue Hills? Perhaps she gains there the inspiration for her surprising outbursts in the classroom.

Dramatic Club 2, 3; French Club 2; Basketball 2, 3; Softball 2, 3; Yearbook 3; Honor Roll six times.

BRENDA MAHONEY

10 Adanac Rd. College

When childish autographs are set aside, and teenage adoration for players simmers down to its earthly proportions, Taffy might become the first woman manager of the Red Sox.

French Club 1, 2; Dramatic Club 1, 2, 3; Basketball 1, 3; Yearbook 3; Scribblers Club 2; Honor Roll two times.

JOHN MAHONEY

17 Rockwell Ave. College

John is a perfect gentleman on the dance floor, on the football field, and in the classroom. As a result, he is an equal success in all three; but as manager of the basketball team he surpassed his achievement in all of these.

Football 1, 2, 3; Basketball 1, 2, Manager 3; Track 1, 2, 3.

ROBERT MANNING

57 Huntington Rd. College

Although very serious about his studies, "Robo" can occasionally find time for a good laugh. The perfect personification of "safety on the highways."

French Club 2, 3; Dramatic Club 3; Honor Roll once.

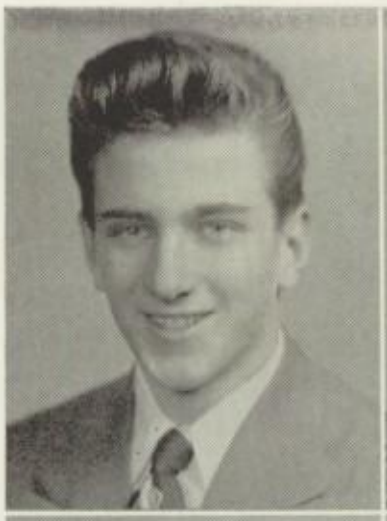
CLAIRE MARSHALL

103 Decker St. College

Claire, being sensitive to the sufferings of her friends, seeks solace in her beautiful works of art.

Basketball 1, 2, 3; Softball 1, 2, 3; Girls' League Art 1, 2, 3; Dramatic Club 2, 3; French Club 2; Photography Club 3; Yearbook 3; Honor Roll eight times.

STANLEY MATHISON
58 Gerald Rd. College
Matt had no difficulty in renewing his friendships of long ago. His cautious speed is an attempt to counteract the peril of women drivers. Would that cars could be controlled as easily as horses.
Outdoor Track 3.



ROBERT McDONALD
31 Denmark St. Armed Forces
Mac seems to wait for the bell before rushing into the room. He has had teachers holding their breath since the seventh grade. His mature attitude toward life and school will be compensation for his lively wit in the years to come.
Indoor Track 2.

CAROLYN MATTALIANO
34 Blue Hill Terr. Business
Matal's potentialities are merely awaiting inspiration. She has found no opponent worthy of her steel. Her sparkling eyes, and sultry stare belie the languor of their motions.

CONSTANCE MILROY
191 Church St. Bookkeeper

Congratulations to Trixie. She has the moral courage to admit that she has enjoyed her three years at Milton. Such faithful loyalty will make her a worthy asset to any business firm. If it must be bookkeeping let us hope she can figure in a florist shop.

Scribblers Club 2; Softball 3.

JAMES MITIGUY
75 Cliff Rd. College

When you are tempted to believe that red hair denotes temper and sarcasm, stop and consider Jimmy. His even disposition and desire to please made him well liked by all who played football against him.

Radio Club 1; Football 2, 3; Photography Club 2, President 3; Indoor Track 2; Baseball 3.

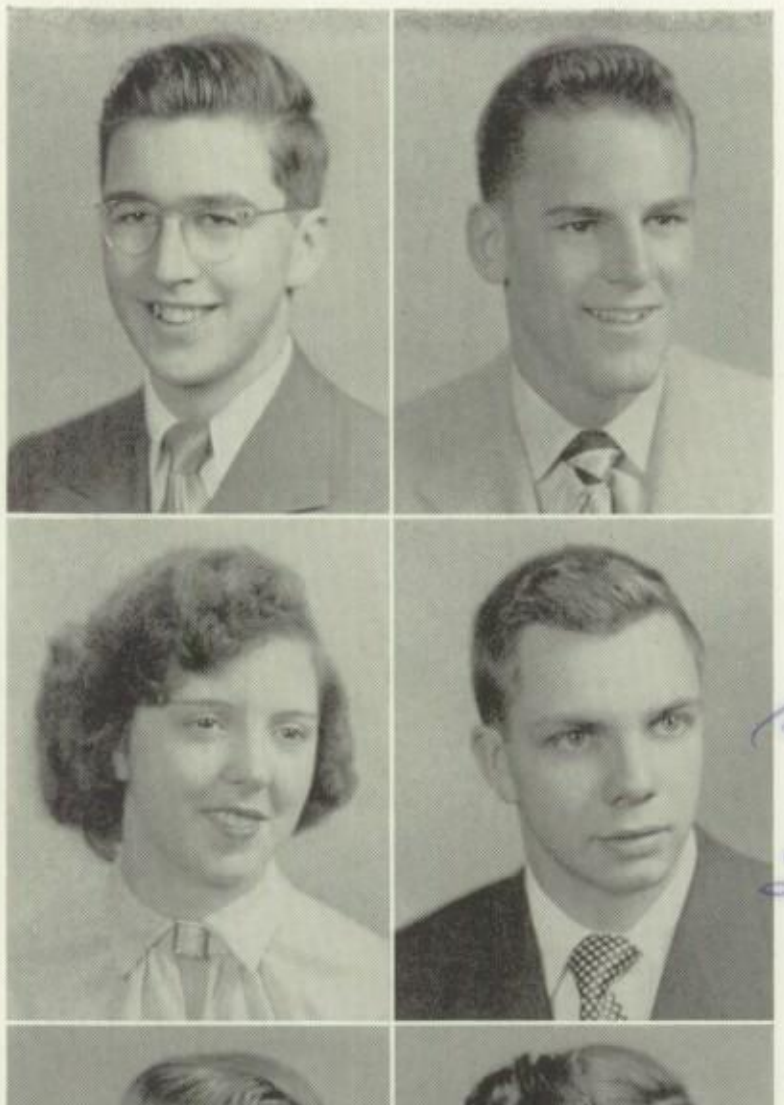
JOHN MOORE
14 Melbourne Rd. Work

Jackie is an explorer in the jungle of learning. Throwing caution to the winds, he manfully hacks his way through every problem, never circumventing that which may be rough hewn until he reaches voluntary exile.

Cross Country 1, 2, 3; Indoor Track 1, 2, 3; Outdoor Track 1, 2, 3; A. A. Collector 2; Honor Roll nine times.

ROSEMARY MULDOON
35 Warren Ave. Work

The present is but an interregnum for Rosemary. Doughnuts and hot chocolate may satisfy, but she perfers less calories and more sophistication. While she is stock-girl and baby sitter, she dreams of music and lights and Alaska.



JOSEPH MULLEN
166 Brush Hill Rd. College

If you don't know tall, good-looking Joe, it certainly isn't his fault. Joe is the type that goes out of his way to be nice to people. Consequently, he is one of our most popular seniors.

Football 1.

HENRY NELSON
248 Blue Hills Pkwy. College

Hank is definitely preconcolistic. His ability and prowess placed him second to the coach in furthering the success of the football team.

294 Edgehill Rd. Undecided

Momentous tasks continually unfolding before him force Dick to confine his outside activities of all the months to June, when he is allowed a little freedom.

Football 1, 2, 3; "Unquity Echo" 2; French Club 2; Dramatic Club 2, 3; President Scribblers Club 2; Yearbook 3; Honor Roll nine times.

HARRY SNOW
1257 Randolph Ave. Electrician

Harry has a bright inquisitive look that puzzles us. It isn't the manner of one merely curious. It is suggestive of his keen mind, but many men with quick minds do not possess his air of scrutiny. Until disproved, we should attribute it to his active interest in others.

ROSE-MARIE SOLOMINE
39 Bates Rd. Undecided

Never known to raise her voice, blonde Sol manages admirably to suppress her feelings. Her neat ways are the object of much admiration. In spite of being a great radio fan she has enough spare time to culitvate an interest in sports. An unusual future awaits her.

ASHTON STOCKER
34 Russell St. College

Ashton's wit is a smoldering volcano that may without notice erupt at any time. He makes a clean sweep of anything he attempts in school.

Home Room Assembly 1, 2, 3; Photography Club 3; Manager Cross Country 3; Honor Roll eleven times.

DIANNE SULLIVAN
61 Wendell Park College

Neither asking for nor expecting attention or privileges, she earned her fine record by acting alone.

Dramatic Club 1, 2, 3; Basketball 1, 2, 3; French Club 2, 3; Latin-American Club 2; Girls' League Dramatic Committee 3; Yearbook 3; Honor Roll seven times.

EUGENE SULLIVAN
77 Warren Ave. College

Sully is a lucky individual who never has to work hard for goals that are difficult for others to attain. As captain of the track team Sully proves a hard man for his following to stay with.

Cross Country 1, 2, 3; Spring Track 1, 2, 3; Indoor Track 1, 2, Captain 3.

JOSEPH SULLIVAN
35 Rowe St. U. of M.

Laziness is certainly not one of Joe's worst characteristics. He goes all out to make friends and once made, they form a permanent circle of admirers. When Joe fills out he will be able to hold his own with any man.

Latin-American Club 2; Scribblers Club 2; Photography Club 3.

ALAN SWAN
18 Whitelawn Ave. College

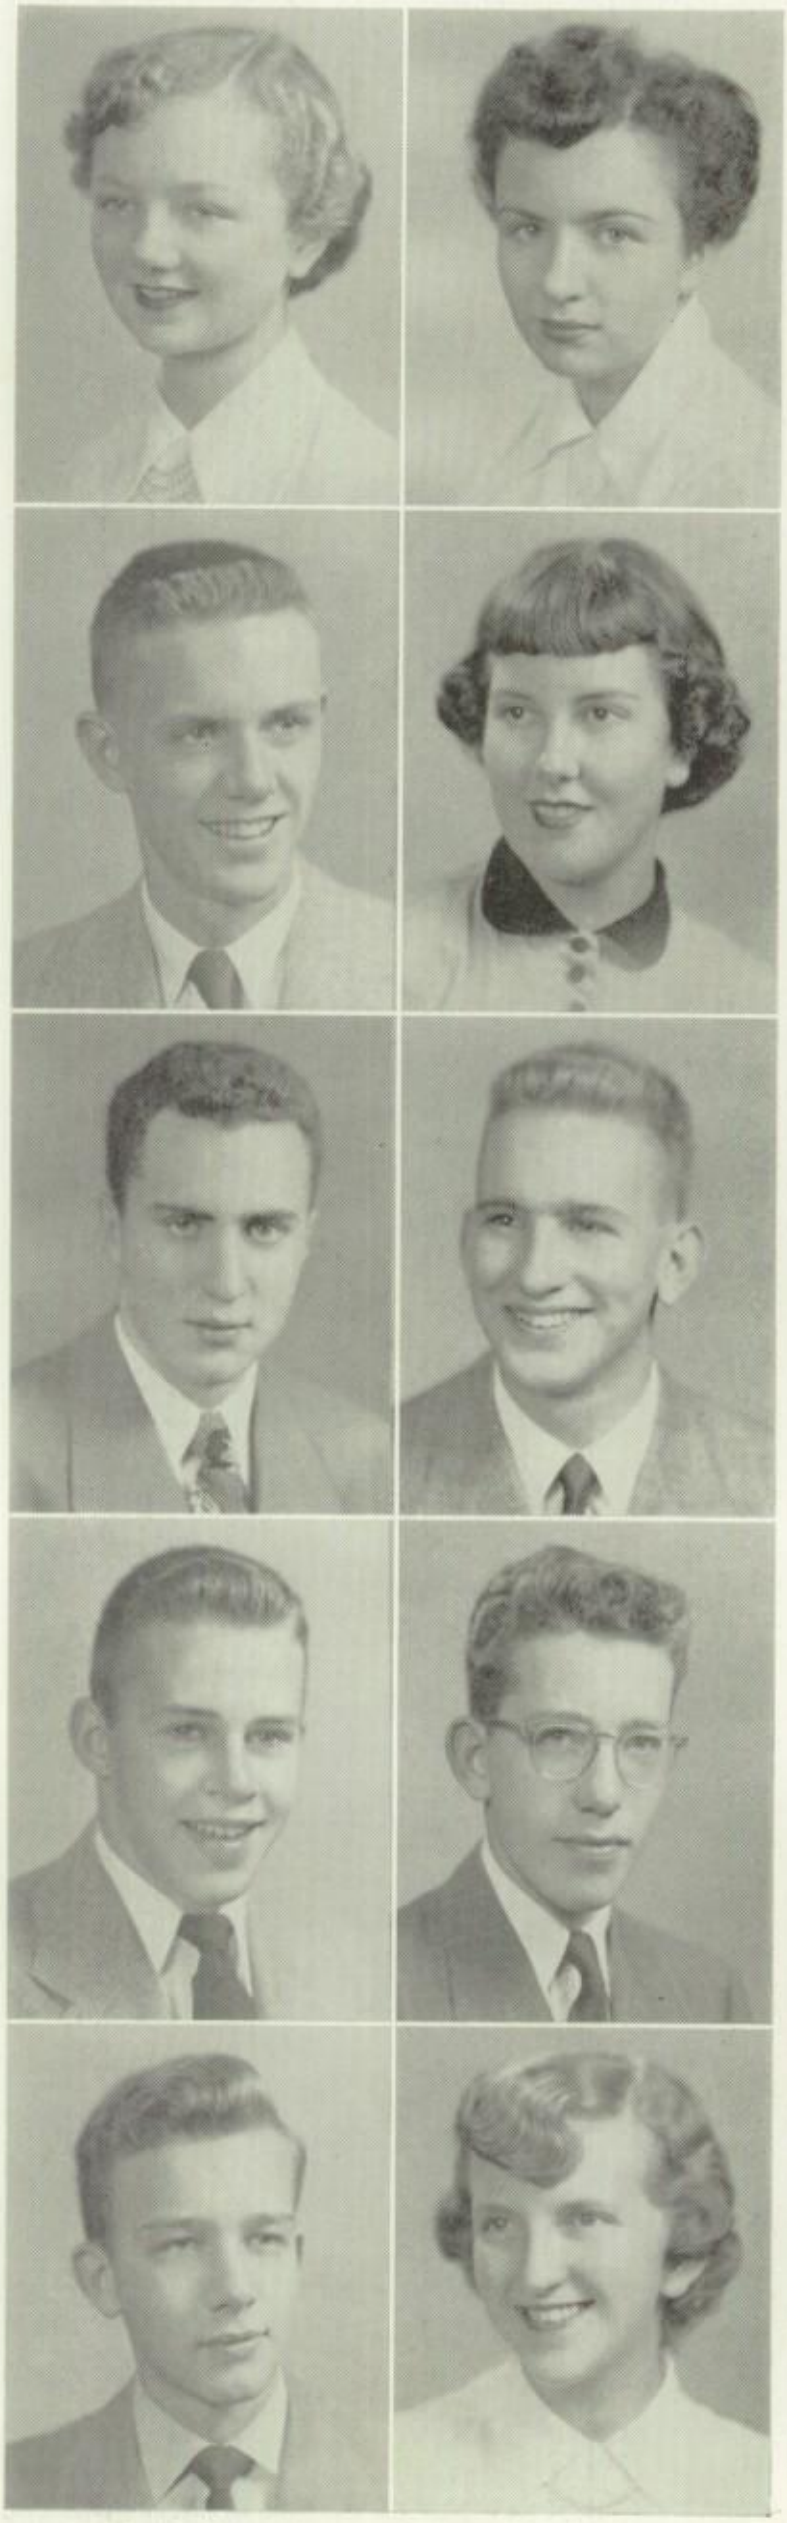
We speculate over the value of courage and perseverance. Buddy received numerous injuries during his football career that have caused others to stop and consider.

Football 1, 2, 3; Basketball 1, 2, 3; Track 1, 2, 3; Outdoor Track 3; Home Room Delegate 2, 3; Senior Class President.

DOUGLAS SWEET
730 Canton Ave. Business

Doug is witty among his contemporaries but retiring in society. When he learns to correlate his two appearances, he should assume his rightful level and reach for his laurels of glory. He will then be most emphatically crowned with success.

Photography Club 2, 3.



FRANCES THOMAS
105 Granite Place Work

Franny is not only mirthful in herself but is the cause of mirth in others. None can resist merriment in the presence of one so capable of producing laughter. It has been a rare privilege to have known such a witty girl.

Glee Club 1.

JUDITH TREAT
67 Concord Ave. College

It is a wonder that Judy has been able to concentrate on school work so diligently with visions of sailboats in her mind. She returns to school refreshed from the summer's activities.

Glee Club 1, 2; Scribblers Club 2; Chorus 2; Dramatic Club 2; "Unquity Echo" Collector 3; Girls' League Committee 3; Yearbook 3; Photography Club 3.

PHILIP TRUSSELL
6 Lothrop Ave. College

Phil has been an able third-baseman, but his View from the Hill has kept him from trying his hand at a fast pitch. Things have taken care of themselves.

Chess Club 1, 2; "Unquity Echo" 2, 3; Indoor Track 2, 3; Baseball 2, 3; Cross Country 3; Honor Roll eight times.

MILTON TURNER
223 Churchill's Lane Navy

To date Milt has had a wide and varied career. From arranging flowers to the Naval Reserve has been a short step for a man of Milt's determined stride. Every step he takes clicks in place.

A. A. Collector 1.

SUZANNE WALSH
1093 Brook Rd. Work

Our Cinderella has yellow hair and green eyes but lacks the dwarfs. In their stead she has her charming personality and lively wit. Sue can always be sure of a bright future with her voice which will always be the envy of others less fortunate.

Glee Club 1, 3; Girls' League Committee 2, 3.

ROBERT WEBBER
165 Eliot St. College
"Bob" has kept the financial world in good condition through his long hours at the bank. We and the Vanderbilts owe him a vote of thanks. However, he manages to steal a little time to help keep his friendships in repair.
Photography Club 2, 3; Screen Guild 3.

LAWRENCE WERNER
2 Howard St. College
We hope and expect that Larry with his driving ambition will emerge from Amherst Agricultural School as ploughman extraordinaire.
Cross Country 2, Co-Captain 3; Indoor Track 2, 3; Outdoor Track 3.

DAVID WEINZ
84 Reservation Rd. Art School
A picture of "Weinzie" in informal pose, peddling to school or removing cherished pictures from his bookbag, would reveal the qualities which make our highways safe and our art galleries more interesting.
Cross Country 1, "Unquity Echo" staff 2, 3; Dramatic Club 2.

MARIE WINSLOW
194 Brook Rd. College
Marie is one of the many who look forward so joyfully to the coming of report cards. Her favorite subject is typing and she is often seen after school pounding away at the keyboard.
Dramatic Club 1, 2, 3; Latin - American Club 2; Screen Guild 3.

KATHLEEN WOODS
72 Reservation Rd. Nursing
It was not chance which made Kay Vice President of the Girls' League. Indeed, she leaves very little to chance, preferring instead to rely on her talent.
Basketball 1, 2; Dramatic Club 1, 2; Softball 1, 2, 3; French Club 2; Vice President Girls' League 3; Latin-American Club 2; Nominating Committee 3; Honor Roll four times.

As seniors, we owe a great deal to the people whose names appear on the following pages. Without exception they are the ones who take an active interest in community affairs. By unhesitatingly contributing to aid our publication, they have earned for themselves the respect and admiration of all who read their names in our yearbook.

HERE, then, is the completed unit of "51". We have brought together the component parts that make up the whole:

the faculty, who gave us the mental incentive;

the sports, that helped us with physical encouragement;

the clubs, that served as the bases of our school social life;

the seniors, who are the key to the whole puzzle;

the sponsors, who provide the financial stability of our community.
